SHOOTING NOW IN ORDER.

Southern Editors Settle a Grudge With Their Fists.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 21.—A special to the Constitution from Rome, Ga., says that Postmaster M. M. Pepper and W. A. Knowles, editor of the Rome Tribune, had a serious fight there last night. One thing which gives it some significance is the fact that it grows out of a correspondence, which first time Knowles developed a duel between Knowles and Boyd, the editor of the contemporary. The latter attacked the Tribune and Knowles replied with a letter to his friend, Underwood, to Knowles asking him to go outside the State and renew the correspondence. Knowles would not receive the letter.

Then Underwood sent Knowles a letter and the editor would not receive that. This letter was carried by Postmaster Pepper. The latter says that he did not know what it contained. Knowles met and discussed the affair.

Finally Pepper carried Knowles a bar and was knocked down. Knowles followed, with Knowles on top of the postmaster. Representative Madrox, of the Senate, who first time Knowles developed a duel between Knowles and Boyd, the editor of the contemporary. The latter attacked the Tribune and Knowles replied with a letter to his friend, Underwood, to Knowles asking him to go outside the State and renew the correspondence. Knowles would not receive the letter.

EX-SECRETARY FOSTER'S PLAN.

Would Require the Payment of Duties on Imports in Gold.

Toledo, O., Nov. 21.—Taking Carle's New York speech for his text, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Foster, who is here, discussed the Treasury situation.

"The United States," said ex-Secretary Foster, "is practically compelled to maintain the gold reserve for the entire country. When the exigencies of foreign trade demand the shipment of the yellow metal those desiring to obtain it simply present a check to the Treasury. The defect of our present system is that there is no method whereby the Government can obtain gold to maintain the reserve except the sale of bonds. This is a defect which can very easily be remedied.

"Let Congress pass a law requiring the payment of duties on imports of a specified proportion of them in gold. This would keep the reserve in the Treasury far above the $100,000,000 mark and prevent the necessitating of bonds issues for the purpose."

JUDGE LYNCH MAY ACT.

George Morgan, Murderer of Ida Gaskell, Given a Preliminary Hearing.

Oanah, Neb., Nov. 21.—George Morgan, charged with assaulting and murdering little Ida Gaskell, and who was hurried off to the State prison at Lincoln to await lynching, was secretly returned here in order to have his preliminary hearing.

The hearing came off yesterday before the police judge. Morgan was driven to the courtroom from the State prison at 10 o'clock, long before the usual hour to which he was to be taken. He was held to the district court without bail. He was then rushed back to the county jail.

A strong force is guarding the jail, for there is still some fear of lynching, but the feeling has died down to some extent.

BRIDE OF A CONGRESSMAN.

Mary Louise Pearson Married to Jonathan Prentice Dooliver.

Port Dodge, Iowa, Nov. 21.—Jonathan Prentice Dooliver, member of Congress from the Tenth Iowa district, and Miss Mary Louise Pearson were married last evening at the First Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Greene, assisted by Rev. J. J. Dooliver, the aged father of the Congressman. Many prominent guests were present, including Gov. Jackson.

The bride is a daughter of George B. Pearson, a pioneer of this section. She is a graduate of Wellesley.

FISH AND THE FISHERIES.

Interesting Facts in the Commissioner's Annual Report.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE EGGS

Studies of Marine Life Prosecuted by Scientists—Sense Organs of the Horseshoe Crab—Effort to Develop Oyster Industry Worth Millions to the United States.

There is a great deal of interesting information in the report of the late Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries, Mr. Marshall McDonald, which has recently been published.

In the single year covered by it there were furnished for distribution by the various stations 12,063,000 eggs, 165,235,800 fry, and 1,486,117 adults and yearlings. There were also other supplies furnished, but lost in transit, among them being 8,857,000 shad fry, and 1,100,000 pike pike fry.

The largest distribution, taking eggs and fry together, was of white fish, 54,692,000, with shad next at 45,330,000, and then pink perch at 45,330,000; cod at 22,187,500, quaker salmon at 8,820,300, lobster at 6,819,000, and lake trout at 6,800,000. Various kinds of trout, salmon, and bass were prominent, and notable among the adults and yearlings were catfish, carp, perch, and 12,588 goldfish.

At the Wood's Hole laboratory studies of marine life were prosecuted. Dr. Kellogg, for example, studied the early habits of the common scallop or pecten, and also wrote a paper on the morphology of lamellibranch mollusks; Prof. Herrick continued his researches into the life of the common starfish, Echinaster, and the development of sponges; and Dr. Patten dwelt on the sense organs of the horseshoe crab. Indeed, many reports and papers were published. The studies of the horseshoe crab, Blue Wing, Curlew, Cymat, Shearwater, and Petrel were kept in good condition for the Fish Commission's work.

INDUSTRY WORTH MILLIONS.

Investigations of the fur seal fisheries, of the other fisheries, and of the contiguous waters of the United States, and of the oyster beds in Chesapeake Bay, at Galveston and at San Jose City were made. Those of Prof. Kiley at the latter place were especially important, as they were made by an annual appropriation of $5,000 a year for New Jersey for oyster and scallop development in return an industry worth millions through its fisheries in oyster culture. One of Prof. Kiley's conclusions was, almost unanimously, that oysters are like potatoes; they will stay just where you plant them. The only one of their stages that is locomotive is the fry or swimming stage. Dr. Kellogg's studies suggest that the degree of density of the water is one of the most important factors influencing the spawning and fattening of the oyster.

The studies of Prof. Libby, in the Grampians, disclosed the return of the tishich, which seemed to have been exterminated in the Cape Fear, and in the North Carolina, and the influence of temperature on the disappearance and the reappearance is traced out.

In New Jersey and New Jersey ponds have become more important, partly with the result of fewer seines, while many more gill nets are found, due to the development of the shad and starfish fisheries of the Hudson and the Delaware. It is noted a general increase of the fishing industries in these two States. It is stated that the catch of shad in the Hudson, among others, has increased. Shad, bluefish, butterfish, catfish, eels, flounders, mullet, sea bass, shad, squeteague, starfish, tomcod, tongue, quahogs and oysters. The following are taken in some quantities than formerly: Cod, mackerel, menhaden, scup, sheepshead, Spanish mackerel, striped bass, and other species.

IMPORTANT INDUSTRY.

The mackerel, lobster and clam fisheries of New England occupied much attention. The number of vessels in the mackerel fleet in 1894 was about 200, and the catch was reported to be about 40,000 barrels of mackerel and 47,000 barrels of scallops, making a total value of about $1,000,000. George's fleet continued to be the chief resort of the New England coast for the fleets from Gloucester, Boston, Provincetown, and other ports.

On the Pacific coast the fisheries form a most important industry. In 1894 they employed 1,444 vessels, and property and capital valued at $6,292,664, with products of 124,116,858 pounds, valued at $4,820,964. California shows 150,175 pounds of anchovies, 326,804 of barracuda, 249,332 of bonito, 65,662 of carp and 374,662 of octopus and squid and other products.

In some years menhaden are enormously abundant. Thus in 1890 four factories alone on the Maine coast, valued at $21,000,000, utilized 302,700 barrels, equivalent to nearly 900,000 fish. From these were made 1,039,000 gallons of oil, with a marked value of $4,760, and 10,630 tons of wet scrap or "bones," valued at $131,160. The fish were supplied by nine steamers, carrying about 200 men, and 144,000 bushels of corn, and the value of the catch was $38,640 was paid in wages. The following year the catch fell off 10 per cent.

Red snappers were very abundant on Cape Cod, off Galveston, in 1893. Three snappers were employed, and steam vessels made trips to bring off their catch. This continued from early in the year to May 5, and included 321,076 pounds of red snappers, with other fish bringing the total of 367,506 pounds. The snappers were marketed from eight to twelve fishermen, each of whom were given a share of the catch. The snappers were largely being marketed. The fish were taken by hand lines, and as many as 20,000 pounds were caught in one day by the three snappers.

A full report, of course, is made on the propagation of fishes used for food.

TROLLEY CANAL BOATS.

Erie Company Will Install a System of Electric Propulsion.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Information has been received here of a contract for the equipment of the Erie Canal with electric propulsion. It is understood that the Erie Canal Traction Company has entered into a contract with the Erie Canal Commission to install a system of canal boat propulsion from Buffalo to Albany at an expense of $2,250,000, and that work will proceed as the work upon the canal is completed.

The electric power to be introduced will be generated at the Falls of Niagara.

MORMON ELDERS HAD TO LEAVE.

Two of Them Made Themselves Obnoxious to Tallahassee.

Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 21.—Elders Rogers and Nebeker, two Mormon preachers who have been "doing" the city for several days and making themselves generally obnoxious, were arrested before Mayor Gamble yesterday on the charge of being a nuisance to the peace, dignity and morals of the city.

A fine of $200 each was imposed by the mayor or sixty days in jail. The penalty was suspended one hour to give them an opportunity to leave the city, which they immediately proceeded to do under escort of Chief Henry.

MARQUIS CARRINANA'S CHARGES.

Accuses Members of the Madrid Government of Malfeasance.

Madrid, Nov. 21.—Marquis Carrinana has caused a sensation here by making charges through the medium of the local newspapers against certain members of the municipal government of the city.

The charges are to the effect that these municipal authorities have used their positions for private advantage. An official investigation has been ordered.

Last evening two unknown persons fired several shots from revolvers at the marquis, but their objects were not injured.

NO INDEMNITY FOR WALLER.

Diplomats Do Not Believe Franco Will Pay One Cent.

General Impression Is That His Release Will Only Be Secured as an Act of Graciousness.

While the State Department refuses to furnish any information regarding the matter, the impression exists here that the French Government has notified Ambassador Eustis at Paris that it will not furnish a copy of the record of the court-martial proceedings against ex Consul Waller, as a matter of right.

Mr. Waller's counsel, Mr. Cramming Kennedy, of this city, believes, however, that the record will be furnished to Ambassador Eustis if requested as a matter of courtesy.

It is not improbable that Mr. Waller will be notified by the State Department that the French Government will release him from custody as a matter of grace if this Government will waive the question of indemnity. So far, apparently, he is in ignorance of this fact.

Mrs. Waller strenuously insists upon a payment of damages in compensation for his imprisonment, but it is not unlikely that the whole matter will be referred to the ex-consul to decide for himself. Should he prefer to remain in prison upon the condition of obtaining a release from the State Department and his counsel will do the best possible for him under the circumstances.

Speaking of the other side of the case, a diplomat said last evening that the French had been rather unjustly represented in America.

"Waller," he said, "arrived in Madagascar in 1885. Although the French had possession of affairs through their protectorate, he did not hold any communication with them, but addressed himself entirely to the Queen. This was courteous to the protectorate, to put it very mildly.

"He invested his money on the island against the advice of men well informed of the vacillating state of the government, in view of their pending troubles with France. Throughout his term of office he was open to the French, and openly disposed to the protectorate.

"But what led to the arrest and imprisonment of Waller was that after his duties had commenced and martial law had been declared, a packet of his letters was seized addressed to the Madagascar minister, and they were taken to certain minute descriptions of the position of the French army, synopsis of their future plans, and a great deal of information that was damaging to the French, and was of value to the Madagascar government.

"Now, everyone knows what martial law is. Waller was arrested and imprisoned. The wonder is he was not shot, and in the opinion of European diplomats, he has escaped very easily, and it is all bluff to talk about the French government paying an indemnity for his imprisonment.

"The French government would undoubtedly release him, if they were officially requested to do so, but a demand for an indemnity will never be accepted. The American government looks on all breaches of diplomacy with the utmost severity, and in all cases where foreigners have interfered with our interests, they have not handled the offenders with kid gloves.

ARRESTED AN OFFICER.

Tenth Cavalry Lieutenant Caught Violating the Game Laws.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 21.—Lieut. L. M. Koehler of the Tenth Cavalry, stationed at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., will be prosecuted in the courts for violating the Colorado game laws.

Last week he was discovered by a deputy game warden with a party of friends hunting in the mountains near Fort Huachuca, in their camp. Koehler resisted arrest, claiming he was under orders to pursue the Indians, also hunting there, to return their reservation.

Gov. McIntyre said yesterday that he would make an example of the army officer and would then proceed against the Indians. He believes that the State case, his opinion will be confirmed by that decision. The army authorities are investigating Lieut. Koehler's case.

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.

It is a Two-Dollar Bill and Appeared at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 21.—The secret service officers discovered yesterday that this city has a model with a dangerous counterfeit $2 bill.

One bank teller threw out six yesterday that came in with the deposits of merchants. The secret service officers say it is the most dangerous counterfeit that has appeared in years.

It is about one-eighth of an inch larger than the real bill, and in the portrait of William the eyes are larger than in the original.

Beginning Library.

The Sunday school of St. Paul's M. E. Church has adopted a novel plan for founding a library. All the members and friends of the school have been invited to a social musical entertainment, to be given at Mount Vernon Seminary, corner of Eleventh and M streets northwest, at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. The condition of the school is that the donors of the books may think suitable for a Sunday school library.

ABOUT SLEEPLESSNESS.

WHAT IT IS A SIGN OF.

One of the Most Common Symptoms of Kidney Disease, Sometimes of Brain Trouble.

Sleeplessness means either one or both of two things: First, kidney trouble; second, brain trouble.

But if there is brain trouble, it is probably a complication of the kidney trouble.

Bright's disease, the most dangerous kidney trouble there is, is generally accompanied by sleeplessness.

Nine times out of ten the sufferer from Bright's disease cannot find out that he has it until it is almost too late to be cured.

The symptoms are so like unimportant sicknesses that you don't think you need a doctor, and so things go on until the doctor can't help you any more.

Dr. Hobb's Spargus Kidney Pills will cure sleeplessness.

They do it by curing the kidneys, by taking away the cause of the whole trouble, by purifying the blood.

Asparagus has a special effect on the kidneys, as every one who has eaten it knows.

This effect is strengthened and made more powerful in Dr. Hobb's Spargus Kidney Pills.

If it is your kidneys which cause your sleeplessness, Dr. Hobb's Spargus Kidney Pills will cure it by toning them up and giving them fresh blood and strength.

If it is your brain, by cleansing and renewing the blood, through the improved action of the kidneys, Dr. Hobb's Spargus Kidney Pills will cure the brain by giving it fresh nourishment and new life.

To be healthy and to do your best work, you must have enough sleep.

When you are losing it, a few doses of Dr. Hobb's Spargus Kidney Pills will cure you and bring rest to your tired body and mind.

Besides sleeplessness, the symptoms of kidney trouble are headache, nervousness, shortness of breath, evil forebodings, loss of flesh, swelling of the feet and ankles, pain in the back.

All these symptoms are caused by sick kidneys. All of them can be cured by Dr. Hobb's Spargus Kidney Pills.

When no other drugs or medicine will relieve you, Dr. Hobb's Spargus Kidney Pills will.

"They are therefore acting with unpardonable inconsistency to imprison Waller in view of his offenses. When the case becomes known, as it soon will be, through diplomatic correspondence, the whole world will concur in this opinion."

ROUGH ON LAKE HURON.

Several Steamers Have Terrible Experiences in the Heavy Seas.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 21.—The steamer Ketchikan and consort Monticourt, lumber-laden, had a terrible experience on Lake Huron Tuesday night. The Ketchikan arrived here at noon today in a dismantled condition, having jumped out of her moorings in the heavy seas, smashing her cabin, and losing nearly all of her deck load.

The Montgomery broke away from the steamer during the night, and was driven ashore near Cold Draft, Ont. She will prove a total wreck.

The crew of the Canadian schooner Danless was taken off by the tug Crosby seven miles out from Port Gratiot light. The schooner is at anchor, but is being battered by the heavy seas.

The Northern Northern Western, which left Port Huron in company with the steamer Ketchikan yesterday, was forced to seek shelter from the furious gale on Lake Huron last night. In trying to make the harbor she went on the rocks on the beach, and is probably badly damaged, as she has three feet of water in her hold.

STEPS DOWN A MOVING TRAIN.

In Consequence A. G. Moseley Will Have Both Feet Amputated.

(Special to The Times.)

Richmond, Va., Nov. 21.—A. G. Moseley of this city, a traveling salesman of the Allen & Ginter branch of the American Tobacco Company, stepped from a moving train on the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railroad on West Broad street last night, and, falling under the wheels, had both ankles mangled so as to make amputation necessary.

QUESTIONS FOR TAX-PAYERS.

Do you think that the District should be bonded to pay for a new system of sewerage and for street extension and improvement?

Do you think that, should a bond bill pass, any of the money realized from the sale of these bonds should be expended in improving private real estate holdings outside the city proper and remote from the great body of taxpayers?
